Brentwood, TN – January 8, 2012

Trinisys, LLC, a leading provider of enterprise data capture and data integration platform solutions, announced today a new strategic partnership with Delphi Technology, in which Trinisys will provide the front-end technology platform for Delphi's new and dynamic OASIS Electronic Applications (E-App) and OASIS Incident Management & First Notice of Loss (FNOL) solutions for professional liability and workers compensation lines of business.

The relationship will combine Delphi's many years of trusted business expertise and production-proven products with the Trinisys' technology platform to dramatically reduce the "time to market" availability of these new products. "Delphi is extremely excited about our new relationship with Trinisys. Their strong customer-oriented partnering approach, in conjunction with their robust, dynamic and highly configurable platform, is a winning combination for us." says Bill Moss, President and COO of Delphi Technology.

The Trinisys platform will be seamlessly integrated into Delphi's existing product infrastructure, which will allow Delphi to remain the single face to their customers, but deploy solutions more rapidly and more flexible than others in the industry. Mike Sole, VP of Sales and Marketing at Trinisys states "We have been aware of Delphi in the market for years and they are recognized as being the technology leader in providing solutions to the professional liability and risk management markets.
