Central Repository
for Medicaid Documentation

Trinisys modernizes and simplifies document management and file sharing for State Medicaid programs and associated Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) and Managed Care Contractors (MCCs).

Medicaid offices and associated MCOs and MCCs communicate and documents regulary, however, utilizing shared and local drives and desktops makes it difficult to pull and share the correct files quickly. Having an efficient and secure way of managing and sharing documents is necessary for the accuracy and timeliness of deliverable completion.

Trinisys provides states with a Central Repository for users working with and searching for MCO-related documentation. Utilizing the Central Repository, business owners can leverage a single point of access for all files, eliminating the need to utilize multiple applications to find and store documents. Additionally, the online shared storage space allows users to upload documentation that is accessible based on group permissions, edit based on group permissions, download, and share publicly in the right circumstances.

Features and Benefits

- One-stop-shop and single source of truth for all documents related to MCO operations to reduce versioning issues
- Helps to facilitate communication and support standardization across the State's Medicaid program
- Internal and external user access allows the State, MCOs, and MCCs to view files
- The Central Repository functionality can be embedded into the State's current instance of the Convergence platform or work as a standalone application
- Advanced search capabilities allow users to quickly and easily search for documents utilizing a variety of fields
- Defined roles allow various functionality based on user privileges including uploading, searching, viewing, and downloading specific content
- Reduces redundancy and "overcrowding" on shared and local drives and desktops
- Version control tracks document changes and notes who made them
