

Government Application Archive

Many government agencies are burdened by legacy applications that result in significant financial costs in maintaining manual processes that develop to obtain the necessary data, and productivity loss in cumbersome business processes that are required for accessing missing or incomplete information critical to supporting business and/or reporting requirements. Trinisys Government Application Archive solves these challenges by centralizing the necessary data and documents into a single repository, translating all information into usable formats, indexing and mapping all information for appropriate access and integrating the data and documents into current works to maximize useability and productivity.

Reduce Costs

Legacy application retirement positively impacts budget, allowing funds to be allocated to other projects

Increase Productivity

The single source of truth eliminates the hassle of finding and accessing critical data

Improve Quality

Immediate access to legacy data supports business workflows and reduces delays and errors

Ensure Security

Advanced security and auditing features ensure data is secure in motion and at-rest

Features and Benefits

- Disparate and non-strategic applications are consolidated into a single repository to improve access to required information
- Maintenance, support, and long-term storage costs associated with legacy applications are eliminated
- Intuitive point-and-click solution enables staff to be up and running with minimal training
- Indexed archives and robust search capabilities allow for rapid data retrieval
- Controlled data access with role-based views and reportable audit trails
- Legacy data availability supports organizational workflows and reporting requirements, while complying with data retention policies
- Enterprise-level security ensures data is protected and the application is up to date with the latest enhancements, improvements, and upgrades to eliminate the risk of it becoming unsupported and obsolete
